

THE YOUNG GUNS MOVEMENT FEATURES

four of Milwaukee's premier entrepreneurs who realized the rules of business have changed. You no longer need to wait for permission to make noise, get noticed and share your brilliance with the world.

To encourage professionals to tell their stories, the Young Guns Movement launched in February with a major live event. Nearly 300 entrepreneurs attended the full-day program featuring inspirational speakers, engaging conversation and influential presenters.

Due to the COVID-19 shutdown, the movement pivoted by launching YGTV, a proprietary channel which gives a platform to luminaries and business rebels.

Each week, YGTV releases a new show designed to provide you with the skills and insight you need to ignite your career; public speakers and innovative disruptors on "YG Stage with Andy Weins," learning from mentors and listening to leaders on "YG One-on-One with Paul M. Neuberger," collaboration and challenging our thinking on "YG Workshop with David Belman," and sharpening our skills while staying on top of trends on "YG Roundtable with Pat Miller."

The Young Guns Movement is for everyone. If you're ready to challenge the status quo and break the rules of business, subscribe to YGTV on YouTube or find the latest episode on the movement's website: younggunsmovement.com
